Building His Kingdom
One Project At A Time

MATT LANDED IN TOGO YESTERDAY!

Praising God for safe travels and a smooth arrival to the Hopital Baptiste Biblique in Tsiko, Togo.

Matt will be overseeing maintenance and operations at the hospital so that Jerald (and Katie) can take a much-deserved vacation. This involves overseeing daily tasks of the maintenance staff, small projects, and keeping power to the hospital and missionary housing.

Jerald will be giving Matt a crash-course in his responsibilities today and tomorrow, and then Matt will take over.

Please pray that power is "reliable" and the back-up generator remains up and running—that the hospital does not lose power

Pray for Matt to stay healthy.

Pray for the Lord to calm Matt's nerves as this task carries a different responsibility than the typical "project" he oversees.

Please pray for the gospel to pierce the hearts of those who work in the maintenance department during their devotions on T/Th each week and as Matt lives it out working alongside them day in and day out.

Please pray for opportunities to reconnect with friends and further development of relationships with the Togolese and missionaries.

Matt leaves Togo on 12/16.

FAMILY UPDATE

- ~We enjoyed a wonderful Thanksgiving with family.
- ~Rylie & Lance are doing well. Rylie is enjoying her first year teaching 5/6 grade at Springfield City Schools as an intervention specialist.
- ~Isaac has six weeks left at the Ohio State Highway Patrol Academy.
- ~Avery has started playing 7th grade basketball; Rylie is coaching the 8th grade so that has been fun! She and Isaac just ran a 10K and are planning future races (15K, ½ marathon, & full marathon).
