PLANNING AND BUILDING WITH PURPOSE

Praises and Prayer Requests:

Praising God that Matt and the PNG team were generally healthy for the trip and their assigned tasks were able to be completed as scheduled!! They had the opportunity to share devotions each day with the workers and their testimonies at each church they visited. While we had wind damage here at home on 3/13, I am thankful that the Lord directed me to an honest contractor who helped me through the roof repair process and had the roof repaired before Matt returned from PNG. Matt just had some soffit and siding to replace when he got home!!

Upcoming trips: Nicaragua in May and Togo in July (Stay tuned for more details)

Papua New Guinea Trip: The Seigu Clinic Project is being managed by a gentleman out of Sydney, Australia. When the team arrived at the clinic, this project manager had left 34 pages of notes and pictures. To boil it down, the tasks were: CLICK HERE! Make sure to check it out to see how well you do at deciphering Australian lingo.

Another neat aspect of this trip was how the team operated counter-culturally to the PNG system of reciprocity, which is “unwritten social arrangements in which people exchange goods, services, labor, or support based on mutual expectations rather than formal contracts or market rules”~ you just don’t do things without expecting something in return. The workers and other community members had a difficult time understanding why these men were there working on this building when it cost them so much to get there, yet they were getting AND expecting nothing in return. INSERT DOOR WIDE OPEN TO SHARE THE GOSPEL!!!!

WHAT GREATER EXPAMPLE DO WE HAVE THAN JESUS!
